Board and Train for 10 14 21 days with 4 mandatory follow up sessions.
Boarding for days at the rate of$50.00 $40.00(returning clients only) per day starting on Client's adherence to following all facets of the training is required to ensure that this goal is met. Some dogs require fewer sessions than the proposed number of sessions. Changes in behavior or issues can arise with the dog that can mean one to two additional sessions may be warranted to make sure the dog fully understands the behavior being trained, as some dogs learn slower or faster than others, and time between sessions can affect knowledge maintained. Usually the first two to three sessions will last two hours while foundations are being taught and both humans and the dog are learning, expect to be billed as such. Multiple dog households will get an individual training plan for each dog. Please Print this and have it signed by our next session. Initial all relevant addendums. Board and train clients must initial Training rate sections, payment, and board and train sections.
TRAINING WILL BE WITH THE APPROPRIATE TRAINER NEEDED FOR YOUR DOGS SKILL LEVEL. Once your dog is at the point of understanding a behavior we will change trainers to help your dog generalize the behavior to as many people as possible. Unless your dog is an aggressive dog your trainer will not remain the same throughout training. Jodi Lytle will be handling aggressive/fearful dogs and IF your dog is deemed ready to move to generalize to another trainer we will then have Jennifer Miller work with your dog. This is KEY for your dog to understand that the behaviors do not only apply to one person and the handler.
If additional behaviors are present during training that the Client would like dealt with that the Trainer was not contacted for, it is up to the Client to add these additional sessions as they will require an additional training plan. Training plans are not complete until after the third session as dogs and people learn differently and the trainer must establish the learning styles of both for the plan.

Client may not employ other training styles or trainers aside from those the Trainer has discussed and approved. No punitive methods are allowed to be used: to include shock, choke, pinch, and verbal correction. No retractable leashes. If these are used it will show in the training and body language of the dog.
Training must be maintained between sessions, if training is only occurring at trainer involved sessions it is grounds for termination of contract.
Training sessions are to be phone and distraction free. This means no answering phones, inviting people over during scheduled sessions unless prior approval has been gained from the trainer for meet and greets, door set ups or other needed training.
Client understands that the Trainer talking to their veterinarian, groomer, dog walker, pet sitter, day care and or boarding facility all are needed to help alleviate any issues with their dog. Handling techniques in each place a dog is taken all have an impact on its behavior.
Client must provide proof of a valid rabies and age appropriate including Canine Influenza vaccination by time of pickup/drop off for boarding. Failure to provide rabies vaccination means the appointments cannot go forward and will be canceled until provided.
PICTURE/VIDEO RELEASE
During training consulting other professional trainers and veterinary behaviorists is part of working with many dogs as is tracking progress and sharing success stories. In order for the trainer to efficiently be able to track and share progress taking video of behaviors as well of pictures may be necessary. If the Client chooses not to have these images shared publicly they will remain only in the context of the behavior plan and the professionals that the trainer consults with the clients and dogs name withheld.
Client agrees to public sharing
Client does not agree to public sharing

If possible, please notify of cancelations at least 24 hour in advance, minimum two hours notice. Cancelation fee of 30 dollars applies if notification is not 24 hours prior to the session. If cancelation is less than 2 hours prior, a cancellation charge of the rate of the scheduled session plus fifteen dollars will be due. Three missed training sessions are reason for dismissal from this contract agreement. Any monies paid will be considered forfeit.
Noncompliance with the training agreement means the contract can be terminated. This includes failure to implement training strategies implemented to manage or prevent a behavior, not providing recommended enrichment, exercise, medical treatment, evaluation or supervision.
Rescheduling- Life happens. If for some reason, accident injury illness etc on either your or the trainers part, we will either pair you with another trainer to fill in for that lesson or you will be rescheduled at the earliest convenience. We will do our best to accommodate as we will do our best to be there every session.
Severe weather- We will not come to you if the weather/road conditions are bad. Leash handling and loose leash walking session will not happen unless an alternate dry location is available such as Lowe's or a pet store. If your dog is not ready for this level of distractions we will just reschedule.
Trainer is not liable for any bites or aggression from the dog. Behavior is fluid and changes in every situation.  Trainer will instruct the Client in recognizing any signs of aggression or stress, it is up to the Client to follow through with proper management and to read these signals and prevent a bite.
Training is not a guarantee of changed behavior. Adherence to the training will help your dog make the correct choices and decrease bad behaviors, but no behavior can be unlearned.
Behavior will not be altered if the recommendations of the trainer are not followed. All parties residing with the dog must follow the training in order for the dog to have consistency.
Pay as you go training
